Our goal is to push back the clock and eliminate preventable amputations over the next generation.

About ALPS

ALPS was introduced in October 2020 as the first interdisciplinary association in our field the US. The main goal is to eliminate preventable amputations over the next generation.

ALPS will serve as an interdisciplinary bridge between our patients and specialties in medicine, surgery, nursing, physical therapy, engineering and science to foster better care of the high-risk lower extremity.

We have a strong focus on continuing to advance the science, clinical care and advocacy of limb preservation.

The next generation will be vital to reach our goals:

We identify, develop and mentor the next generation of clinicians, scientists and clinician scientists in this field. This is close to our heart and will make a big difference.

Since ALPS was introduced, we have received a lot of positive feedback from like-minded colleagues, who would like to be part of this journey and support.

We have a lot of momentum at the moment.

To keep this momentum, we need your support, the next months will determine pace of how quickly we can build and grow ALPS. We need funding to add resources to run the ALPS and we hope that you will support this journey.

How to Support

ALPS is a non-profit, 501c3. Support can be given by donations, or by joining as industry partner.
